The Echo
1959
Dedication

Tradition is an intangible force which encircles our lives. It is the constant preservation of those high ideals which have been a dominant characteristic in the history of our school and our country.

Though we will take many different ways through life and encounter many new ideas, we will always be influenced by the fine spirit of personal honor, of lasting friendships, and of working together — a tradition that Webster High has afforded us.

To this Tradition, The Echo of 1959 is dedicated.
"To keep your life pure
choose good companions

When in trouble turn to God."

—FRANK HAMSHER
"Knowledge is a treasure, but practice is the key to it."

—THOMAS FULLER
"When good fellowship and skill work together, expect a masterpiece."

—CHARLES READE
“Keep the vision of the pinnacles, but make the foundation strong.”

—Brooks
"The darkness is full of well-remembered sounds."

Both Schools President

PETER LEE SHAW
Senior School President

THOMAS NEILL CANFIELD
Junior School President
Pete Shaw, known for not only his personable chuckle but also his efficiency, ably led the Senior School by presiding over assemblies and taking alternate responsibility for Senior Student Council and Guidance Council.

With a cocky grin and friendly quip, Sandy McMillan acted as coordinator between the senior and junior student councils. Webster's Both Schools President presided over the Suburban County Council and shared responsibility for the Senior Student Council and Guidance Council.

Chosen by his classmates for his intelligent leadership, Tom Canfield capably managed his duties as Junior School President. He presided over the weekly meetings of Junior Student Council, led assemblies, and coordinated Junior School elections.

The Senior Student Council of 1955 established this award to recognize seniors for outstanding performance in the fields of leadership, scholarship, sportsmanship, and service. The award is named in honor of Mr. James T. Hixson who for thirty-six years served as principal of Webster High School. The life of the award is ten years. Each winner is presented with an engraved certificate, and his name is inscribed upon a trophy which is the permanent property of the high school.

To be eligible for an award, a senior must present the general qualifications of having maintained a 2.0 or better scholastic average and of having attended Webster Groves High School during both his junior and senior years. The winners of the Scholarship Award shall be the highest ranking boy and the highest ranking girl in the graduating class. One Sportsmanship Award shall be given to the boy who wins the Roberts Trophy. The other Sportsmanship Award shall be given to a girl chosen in the following manner: senior girls who have accumulated at least one thousand points shall nominate five of their number; a faculty committee shall choose as winner one girl from this list of candidates. In the fields of Leadership and Service, the Senior Class shall nominate five boys and five girls on the basis of their qualifications in the respective fields; a faculty committee shall choose as winners one boy and one girl from each list of nominees.

The Junior Class began the task of earning money to increase its treasury by selling Webster book covers in October, and orange and black shakers for the Turkey Day Game in November. Another fund-raising project, which was under the chairmanship of Nancy Piper, was the sponsoring of a booth for Dance-Carnival.

All the class activities were supervised by the members of the class cabinet, who were elected from the entire grade in the spring of last year. Within the cabinet, different committees took charge of each major activity. The Junior Prom Committee was headed by Larry Hill and Judy Michel, and the Junior-Senior Basketball Game Committee came under the direction of C. K. Baber. Other hardworking cabinet members were: T. R. Durham, president of the class; Ray Sebastian, vice-president; Allan McArtor, Don Czarneski, Irene Cariffe, Richie Batz, Mary Beaman, Judy Angell, Cathy Bohling, Bruce Whitney, Carol Lake, Denis Goette, and their class counselor, Miss Epps.

In February the Junior selected and ordered their class rings and eagerly awaited their arrival in June.

The sophomores, under the direction of their class cabinet and Miss Jackson and Mr. Griffith, worked hard and made enthusiastic plans. Last year's graduating class from Hixson might have felt lost coming into this building of crowded halls and many stairs had it not been for a get-acquainted coke party held in the gym in September.

"Yea team! Fight, Fight!" That is exactly what the B teams did as they won four of their football games and many basketball contests.

The "Freshies" found that the first year of their high school career was a challenge, but this dauntless group proved that they could make a worthwhile contribution to Webster High. The girls supported the cheering section for the C team games with lots of enthusiasm. Over forty-six boys out of the class of two hundred and twenty went out for football. Sixteen made the C team basketball squad. Others joined active "Y" groups and the Dramatics Club. Bright students with top grades helped boost the honor roll list.

Each student in the ninth grade class planned his tentative all-over high school program during an individual conference with the class counsellor, Miss I. Howard.

The homeroom presidents acted as a Freshman Cabinet under the chairmanship of Barb Bewig. Each of the members—Sandra Werner, Sharon Drienhofer, Jim Keefer, Karen Munson, Suzie Toft, and Jerry Allen—helped plan the class assembly and party which was held after school in the cafeteria this spring.
Class of 1962

The class of 1963 is relatively small, consisting of about two hundred and twenty students, but already the group has shown many promises for their future years at Webster. Under the guidance of their sponsor, Miss McClain, the eighth graders were led this year by a cabinet of homeroom presidents: Anita Collins, Billie Ann Copenhaver, Judy Evans, Phil Fleming, Bob Hopper, Grigson Pickens, George Stalker, and David Wheeler.

Having adjusted to an academic schedule centered around "bloc" class, which included

"Is this the way Chippendale did it?"

Fifty-eight
English and social studies, they energetically tackled mathematics, science, health, and geography. With Miss McClain they looked forward to the coming four years of high school and through individual conferences, planned their tentative academic schedules.

Although their studies kept them busy, the eighth graders found time to participate in many of the Junior School activities such as Jr. Red Cross, Jr. Student Council, and after-school sports.

Class of 1963

Hunter, Tockey, Lattner, Schaefer, Jackson, Sappington, Younger, Miltenberger, Schwartz, Stuber, Vance, Grant.
The enthusiastic one hundred ninety-five seventh graders spent most of their year adjusting to strange faces, endless halls, and uncooperative lockers. They joined eagerly in varied outside activities which included dramatics, intramural sports, Boys’ Choir, and orchestra.

With the aid of their capable sponsor, Miss Vesta McClain, individual conferences were held to help acquaint the parents and the students with the school.

Each student was registered in the “bloc” curriculum, comprising an English-soci al studies combination, which was scheduled for three hours one semester and two hours the next. To fill out their schedules, industrious seventh graders studied mathematics, science, speech, crafts, physical education, and vocal music. Spanish was offered as an elective.

The executives of the homerooms, elected in the fall to serve their presidential terms of one year were Bob Bennett, Betty Bickel, Alan Hoffs ten, Richard Rodemeyer, Richard Tacchi, and Ronny Wagner.

The Activities

"... Striving for thy glory
we will go and fight, obeying thy commands..."
The meeting was called to order every other day by either Pete Shaw or Sandy McMillan. The minutes were read and approved.

On the "old business agenda" the Council made plans and preparations for the traditional activities of Hello Week, Football Week, and Magazine Sales. The Color Day and Pep Rally Committees combined forces for a senior school Pep Rally in Roberts Gym featuring a lot of spirit and fun.

"New business" included a western rodeo atmosphere for the Dance Carnival, the completion of Webster's Handbook for publication in 1959, and the formation of several new committees: Safety, Constitutional Revision, Lunchroom, and Pep Committees.

For the B.S.P. Campaign and later elections, the Elections Committee provided voting machines borrowed from St. Louis County.

All work and no play? Certainly not! A picnic in May completed the year for Council 1959.

The Council was adjourned.
“Honor! a fine sense of what is just and right with readiness to apply it to one's own conduct in relation to others.” This is the definition that the Student Guidance Council, the judiciary body of Webster Groves High, has used when discussing, explaining, and furthering the unique honor system of our Senior School. This honor system is based on the assumption that Senior High students are capable of governing themselves honorably and maturely. This year it has been the chief duty of the Guidance Council to encourage the workability of the honor system and to explain through friendly discussion with students who have broken rules why their acts are inconsiderate and consequently unjust to their fellow classmates.

Led by Student Body President Sandy McMillan and Senior School President Pete Shaw the council was again composed of five other members—three seniors, one junior, and one sophomore—elected by their respective grades. They met every other day fifth hour and reported a successful year in student guidance.
The primary interest of this year's Junior Student Council was to develop enthusiasm among the students for the junior school as a separate body from the senior school.

In cooperation with the Freshman Pep Club, the Council greatly increased school spirit, and working with the Senior Student Council, it assisted in the promotion of the magazine sales campaign. It handled the election of the Junior School President in the spring.

With one representative from each home room, meetings were held weekly on Wednesday afternoons. The Junior School has every right to be proud of its hardworking student government.

Law and order was the password for this organization. Early in the year eighth and ninth grade boys and girls wrote individual explanations to Mr. Yates telling why they wished to help patrol the halls. Twenty-seven "junior policemen" were then picked, and during the first lunch hour they could be seen standing at the bottom of tempting stairs or near interesting corners. Any delinquents found galloping down those stairs or running around those corners were apt to find themselves starting over at a slower clip.

The twenty lunch room monitors were picked in much the same way. Under the direction of Mr. Quist, it was their duty to keep the lunch room in presentable order. Many older students loudly praised the efforts of this group as they sat down to clean tables during the second lunch hour.

Deadlines! Deadlines! We've got to make the deadlines! Annual staff members scurried to sell advertising, write articles, and identify pictures in order to present the completed "masterpiece" to Webster High on schedule. Because of popular demand, for the second time in all the years of publication since 1911, senior pictures are arranged in alphabetical order. Color pictures grace the pages of this year's Echo for the first time in twenty years.

Bill Alexander, the editor, expressed a hope that everyone would find the 1959 Echo "refreshingly different."

Record advertising sales, a booth at the Dance Carnival, the sale of Turkey Day buttons, and maintenance of the coke machine and the bookstore helped finance the book.

But Echo staff is not all work . . . Santa Claus favored each member with a silly gift at the Christmas party; springtime brought the annual banquet and the highlight of the year, the Echo Coronation and Dance, which was planned and presented by the whole Annual Staff.

"Why be original when you can be clever?"

"Goodies?"

"If you can keep your head in all this confusion . . . you just don't understand the situation."

"Grins."

"Oh! So that's what you do in annual."
This year nine issues of the Webster Echo were written and distributed by the members of the staff under the supervision of their sponsor, Mrs. Yvonne Lanagan. The staff is divided into two sections: the editorial staff and the business staff.

The costs of financing the paper were met by the sale of Turkey Day Programs and basketball buttons, by the profits from the Paper Doll Prom, and by the sale of advertising and individual subscriptions.

This year marked two firsts for the Webster Echo. The Paper Doll Prom was moved to Robert's Gym in order to accommodate more people, with spectators and dancers sitting in the balcony to view the Paper Doll Coronation. Another first was the “Slim Jim” edition of the Turkey Day Program, edited by Kitty Landwehr and written in contemporary style.

The social activities of the staff included a barbecue at the beginning of the year, nine parties (“folding parties”), and the annual spring banquet during which the members of the new staff were announced.
Preparing themselves to step into official positions on next year's Webster Echo staff, members of the journalism class began their "newspaper education" with a thorough introduction to the fundamentals of good news-writing and the mechanics of newspaper production, including the journalistic techniques of copyreading, and manipulating headlines and general make-up.

Members of the class helped the regular staff by selling advertisements, handling some writing assignments, and acting as reporters to provide a more complete school news coverage for the paper. They also worked with the staff members on the Paper Doll Prom, the Alumni tea, and a booth in the Dance Carnival. In November they attended the Missouri Interscholastic Press Association convention, where the entire journalism department managed a successful campaign for the election of Ray Sebastian as I.P.A. state president.

They ended their year with a banquet at which the staff of next year's paper was announced.
Quill and Scroll

Quill and Scroll is an International Honorary Society for high school journalists. The candidates in Webster High may be selected from the Echo Annual or Webster Echo staff. To become a member, each student must be scholastically in the upper third of his class and must have a record of superior work in writing, editing, or business management. Also among the necessary requirements are a recommendation by the supervisor of the journalism activity and approval by a national officer of Quill and Scroll.

Traditionally Webster's initiation takes place in the spring, but no meetings are held. This year approximately seven people remained in the club from last spring's initiation.

Since 1927 this organization has been considered the highest honor awarded to Webster journalists. It is the ambition of each person on the literary staffs to be able to meet these requirements, and attain the honorary membership to Quill and Scroll.
Take a bow N. F. L! Named the most outstanding speech chapter in Missouri, Webster's National Forensic League received their award from the executive secretary of the national organization during an assembly in December, after which the group held a reception for faculty and alums.

Demonstrating their training to think logically and communicate clearly, members of N. F. L. captured fine ratings at many tournaments this year. Several showed their prowess at oratory, extemporaneous speaking, and interpretive reading, as well as debate. In January, five members, Bev Coyne, Carol Miller, Denis O'Brien, Al Boston, and Pete Shaw participated in a broadcast of "Town Meeting of the Air."

But everything is not all work... Sipping tea with alums at Christmas, enjoying dinner at the home of their sponsor, Mrs. Dorothy Weirich; going picnicking this spring—each played an important part in N. F. L.'s successful year.

Those leading the well-knit organization were Denis O'Brien, President; Allen Boston, Vice President, and Carol Miller, Secretary.
Latin Club

Legg, Wisely, Roeder, Wuescher, Adams, Doerner, Wagner, Coffman, Hamilton, Beebe, Stryker, Reed.
Bringing the total membership to one hundred and fifty-five enthusiastic Latin Clubbers, the Conventus Latinus started off the year's activities with the installation of new members. Santa Claus, alias Bill Doerner, visited the annual Saturnalia party. The winter months were filled with a production of "Pyramus and Thisbe" for the Dance-Carnival, a program based on the T.V. program "Keep Talking," and a Latin Club talent show. President, Allen Boston, presided at the State Junior Classical League Convention in April, and the annual "purple and gold" banquet climaxed the year in grand style.

With a monthly circulation of over three hundred and fifty copies and an exchange list of twenty-two schools in fifteen states, the Latinus Rumor staff entered its thirty-first year of publication. This year's editors, Carol Miller and Phyllis Grothaus, initiated several new columns and features to give The Rumor "that newspaper look."

"Now there's a Latin Rumor for you."
Writing a constitution in French and electing officers were the first items on the year's agenda for this club. In October the French students enjoyed a movie about their favorite country, and in a following meeting some of the members acted out a play in French. A Swiss consul came in January to speak about life in Switzerland, the languages spoken there, and the products of that country.

The French Club swung easily into the Western Theme of the Dance-Carnival by providing amateur cowboys with the opportunity to test their accuracy with a water pistol.

Many of the meetings were conducted in French, with Mrs. Bonnie Fitzsimmons as the new sponsor. Vive le Cercle Francais!

Buenos Dias, amigos! Early in the year Spanish students of the Pan American Club were entertained with slides about our southern neighbor, Mexico. Its bull fights, colorful fiestas, and beautiful cathedrals seemed to spring right off the screen into the midst of the American audience.

With the Holidays came the big event of the year, an authentic Mexican Christmas party in the high school cafeteria. Starting off with the Posadas—a simple but beautiful Christmas service, the party continued as expert punchers broke piñatas to release the treasures of candy and prizes within. Eating refreshments, playing rhythms with Spanish numbers, and learning Spanish dance steps finished a grand day.

During the rest of the year, members, eagerly planned for a Spanish assembly to be presented to the school.

“Does anyone speak English?”

With wild gestures and gay laughter, FTA members played that always riotous game of charades at their kickoff meeting.

Other meetings included a panel discussion on colleges and a talk by Mrs. Batts, who spent last year teaching in climate-cold but heart-warm Norway. These meetings left the group with ambitions soaring but, unlike the first moon rocket, held completely on course. Merry December brought a jaunt to a local children's home where the group practiced their future profession on unsuspecting grade-schoolers.

"Spring was busting out all over" as the Future Teachers prepared for their last two projects. A picnic at Blackburn was fun for all members, who now worked together as a close-knit group. The grand finale was a tea given for FTA clubs of St. Louis county by the Webster Chapter. The complete success of this project closed a happy and profitable year for everyone.

A lot of credit should be given to these girls who free the administration and teachers of many of the routine jobs so necessary to the organization of the high school. The office assistant delivers attendance sheets during first hour, and throughout the day she is seen returning attendance cards to homerooms, collecting the familiar pink and green slips, showing new students around the building, finding students who have been summoned to the office, and running countless other errands. In the office she files cards for counselors and delivers messages to the teachers’ mailboxes.

Having given up a study hall to work for one hour every day, she is expected to maintain her grades and be a responsible person. Under the direction of Mrs. Nell Bopp, the office assistants are a hard-working staff, but the girls thoroughly enjoy all the work they do.
Swinging into action early in September, the Senior School Junior Red Cross provided workers for the first of several bloodmobiles. The all-important membership drive came in the last weeks of October, along with the first trip to Bethesda-Dilworth Old Folks' Home. Open house was the word in November when all the members got together for food, fun, and fellowship. A Christmas workshop bruised a few fingers, but many good-as-new toys eased the pain. Two overseas chests winged their way to needy children across the ocean.

Red Cross gives its members the opportunity for making new friends, as well as enjoying the real satisfaction that comes from serving others.

This enthusiastic group, consisting of two representatives from each homeroom, met once a month in the Junior Library. Under the able leadership of Miss Grace, the Junior Red Cross made fine progress in creating interest among the students. Their purpose was to serve the community and teach the students to recognize the needs of others.

Their activities started with the annual membership drive in October. The money contributed by Junior School Students was used to support the Red Cross and its services.

The first of the club’s service projects was the filling of Christmas stockings which were given to needy families. At Christmas members filled gift packages which were sent abroad, and later in the year they collected toys for the Red Cross Chapter House in Webster.

Knowledge hungry students of Webster rushing into the library to get that certain book received help many times this year from their own classmates, the library assistants. These girls gave up their study halls or their after-school time in order to participate in the library program.

Checking-out books was not their only job. How do you suppose those books got back on the shelves? Yes, you’ve guessed it: the library assistants also carried on this seemingly endless job. In doing so they found that those low shelves were hard on the knees — but good on the figure.

It was not all work, however. The library club meetings held once a month were often spent in playing charades or in friendly discussions. The club’s annual Christmas party, at which gifts were exchanged, was hailed with enthusiasm as always; and the spring picnic closed a year filled with fun and worthwhile experiences.
The industrious Junior Library Assistants helped to relieve Miss Grace of many small jobs in the library before and after school and during their study halls. The group, which had several meetings during the year, consisted of seventh, eighth, and ninth graders.

Checking and shelving books and preparing new copies were among their various duties which not only helped them to gain a sense of responsibility and experience, but also served to further their chances of obtaining a paying job at the public library. Because of their familiarity with the books, they often were able to make recommendations to their fellow students.

Included on their social calendar were an ice skating party at Christmas and farewell party near the end of the year.
They do have a whole day of school! Those lucky individuals who leave at the end of fourth hour every day are on their way to school outside of school — their jobs! The forty-two members of Co-operative Occupational Education are learning through practical on-the-job experience for which they receive credit just as if they were conjugating verbs, clearing fractions, or concocting chemical compounds.

Mr. Trotter, the sponsor, holds COE class every day where every person studies material related to his or her job, besides the general topics such as "getting along with your employer" and "values of work experience." For instance, an auto mechanic would also study fuel systems, carburetors, transmissions, and others.

From time to time Mr. Trotter visits the busy students actually on the job.

To participate in Co-operative Occupational Education a student must be at least sixteen and a junior or senior.
Lights! Camera! Action! Yes, the AVO boys were at it again; another Webster class was enjoying animated education. Over twenty boys gave up their study halls to participate in this program.

Besides the important duty of keeping the cameras rolling, AVO boys had at least one meeting a month. These meetings were usually spent discussing those problems common to splicers and reelers. At other meetings throughout the year, new members were taught the intricacies of a camera by some "old pro."

Those of you who enjoyed a good movie, remember to thank the AVO boys who made that entertainment possible.

The old saying that the early bird gets the worm fits Webster's Y.F.C. Bible Club well. Meeting Wednesday mornings before school, the members learned much about Christian living. Jack French, a KWK radio announcer, and Bob Woodson, a basketball star of the 1953 Webster championship team, were two of the many speakers during the year. Other meetings were used for discussions of the Bible.

Webster's club is only one spoke in the wheel of many Y.F.C. clubs throughout the country. Each club has a Bible quiz team which competes for the regional championship and a trip to the national meet. The Webster team, sparked on by Anna Andrus, a national quizzer last year, won many victories.
With drum beats and staccato rhythms issuing from the gym every Wednesday afternoon, members of the Modern Dance Club under the direction of Mrs. I. Markman learned to express their emotions in dance form.

Climaxing a year of hard work, the entire club, including both beginning and advanced dancers, presented its annual Modern Dance Concert on May 6th. Having chosen "Spring in the City" as their theme, the club members introduced the idea of a central motif running through the complete program. The evening's entertainment was based on the story of a young girl passing from scene to scene as she visited each part of the city during the season of spring. The opening number, "'S Wonderful," set the scene as a busy New York street. The following dances depicted other aspects of the city life.

The fifteen Hi-Y clubs at Webster are composed of boys in the eighth, ninth, tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grades. These clubs had several independent social activities, such as hay rides, dances, and the Christmas Basketball Tournament sponsored by the Metropolitan Y Council in which Hi-Y 59 B won the championship.

The two senior clubs worked on an old tradition, the Friendship Dance. In November they spent a week-end at Trout Lodge with dates. This retreat was a big success and will probably be repeated each year by the senior clubs.

In April the Webster Hi-Y's participated in the Model Legislature which was held in Jefferson City. Each club raised money for Buildings for Brotherhood, an organization which establishes Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. facilities all over the world.

By striving "to create, maintain and extend throughout the home, school and community high standards of Christian character," the Tri-Hi-Y Clubs of Webster Groves High School hoped to make Webster Groves a better place in which to live. Each club participated in many diversified activities during the year. The Senior club helped in compiling and circulating this year’s "earliest ever" Buzz Book, as well as aiding many charitable organizations. The Date Slate, under the direction of the Junior Tri-Hi-Y, made its appearance early in September. Complying with the Y’s requirement of a charitable and a social activity every month was the Sophomore clubs’ goal, while the seventh and eighth grades carried on various fund raising projects and helped collect for the Polio Drive.

Each grade contributed to the Church World Service and Buildings for Brotherhood Organization in its service program.

Each club was represented on the Youth Council—the overall governing body of Y organizations—by its president and one other representative.

A crowd of gals plus an exciting game equaled lots of noise and enthusiasm for the Webster Statesmen. The Varsity Pep Club, composed of approximately one hundred junior and senior girls occupied the center cheering section for all home football and basketball games. In the fall the girls sold orange and black shakers to help finance the chartering of buses for the Quincy football game.
During the football season two coaches attended a Pep Club meeting to explain various signals and plays used by the football team. This session proved to be very rewarding to the girls who, understanding the rules better, were able to take more interest in the following games.

This year's goal for Pep Club was variety. Sporting orange and black gloves during the basketball season, the girls participated in cheers with uniform hand motions. In January they donned orange and black beanies.

Club membership was open to all juniors and seniors. They were required to attend all home games, encouraged to go to tournament games, and allowed one study absence.

The theme of the Sophomore Pep Club for the 1958-59 season was "school spirit." About forty "B team supporters" joined the club this year, and although the attendance at games was not compulsory, a large majority of the members were present at every game.

One of the major fund-raising activities of the Pep Club was sponsoring a booth at the Dance Carnival in February.

Of the many high-jumping, cartwheeling girls who tried out for "B" team cheerleaders, these eight were elected: Jane Evans, Nancy Feuerbacher, Beth Harrison, Gay Miller, Barb Roberts, Betty Rose, Betsy Stoddard, and Alma Tomlinson.

Gibbons, B. Renner, Peters, K. Renner, Hilby, White, McCarron, Allen, Lawrence, Parnell, Hardy, Striker.
Striving to increase the attendance at "C" team games, the Freshman Pep Club made and distributed posters to announce the date and place of each game, and sponsored buses to many away games during the football and basketball seasons.

The Pep Club started its activities with a Halloween party in October, and in February it sponsored a booth in the Dance Carnival as a means of making money. Later in the year, members held a pot-luck dinner at which they were hostesses to the boys on the freshman football and basketball squads.

Leading sixty-five members of Pep Club and countless "C" team fans were cheerleaders Barb Bewig, Sharon Boggess, Janet Coates, Patty Durham, Suzy Hofer, Jill Newburg, Kathleen Steed, and B. J. Wilkening.

This year’s A Cappella was unique in its exclusively senior membership but similar to past choirs in maintaining its reputation as one of the outstanding organizations of the school.

After the first few weeks of preparation, the choir began presenting its traditional programs for the various P. T. A. groups in Webster. They were also honored by invitations to sing for the Downtown Rotary and the Federal Land Bank at the Jefferson Hotel.

Among the highlights of the year were the beloved Vesper services, the Fun Assembly, and the Alum party at Christmas.

During February and March the choir began working in earnest toward the weekend of April 11th and their first operetta since 1955. Once again Webster’s stage was filled with songs, laughter, and the rhythm of dancing feet as Victor Herbert’s “Sweethearts” came to life and a more than successful program climaxed the year for A Cappella 1959.

With lots of food and plenty of fun, a get-acquainted picnic opened a busy year for the "B" A Cappella Choir.

Probably their most memorable experience of the year was taking part in the Christmas Vespers program, one of Webster's best loved traditions.

During the Christmas holidays just before Vespers, the "B" A Cappella performed a program of Christmas songs for the Webster Rotary complete with Frosty the Snowman and Santa Claus. In the spring, they had several more engagements, and in April, many of them took part in the operetta, "Sweethearts."

The members, anxiously awaiting next year when they will form the A Cappella Choir; completed the year with a party.

Against a backdrop of tulips, canals, and windmills at the Dutch laundry of the "Little White Geese," the A Cappella Choir presented Victor Herbert's gay comedy romance, "Sweethearts."

The heroine Sylvia (Phyllis Grothaus), an adopted daughter of the coarse but big-hearted Dame Paula (Anne Elster), is actually the long-lost crown princess of Zilania. This fact is known only to an influential politician, Mikel (Jim Shoemaker). The hero, Franz (Ken Heine-man), who is the heir presumptive, falls in love with Sylvia and offers to marry her. Three comedy characters played by Clyde Gudermuth, Doug Johnson, and Allen Boston confuse the issue by mistaking for the princess a saucy milliner Liane (Pat Edele and Sally Pellow) who likes Karl (Bill Murdock).

During the second act, which is set in the splendor of the Prince's palace amid crystal chandeliers, ornate gold furniture, and satin ball gowns, Franz and Sylvia are united for a romantically happy ending.

Lending charm and personality were Sylvia's six sisters: Babs Branch, Mary Liz Dougherty, Barb Hays, Nancy Kingsland, Judy St. Pierre, and Handy Sweazy; and supporting the choir as accompanists were Ann Werthmuller and Bob Brown.
With its symbolic pageantry and musical majesty, the Christmas Vespers Service inspired its audience with the true meaning of the birth of Christ.

Under the direction of Miss Esther Replogle, beautiful music of Vespers was sung by A Cappella Choir, Beginning Choir, Boys' Choir, and the Angel Chorus. The story of the birth of Christ including the shepherds' scene and the nativity scene was portrayed by a cast of forty Webster students. Countless other students—the prop people, the ushers, the stage crew, the make-up crew and the lighting crew—were of invaluable service behind the scenes.

This year there were five performances of Vespers given from December twenty-first to December twenty-third. Two performances were for the public and three performances were for the Webster students.

Vespers and the deep religious significance it conveyed will long remain in the memories of all who attended the service.

With the lights dimmed and the band tuned up, another evening of dancing had begun for Websterites. As the dancers whirled across the floor, they noticed that the band was composed of thirteen players from the tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grades. Some of these players had been in the band for the full three years. Organizations sponsoring dances greatly appreciated this band because, unlike most, it played at school dances for a very reasonable fee.

The high spot of the year for this group was playing down at Soldan High School during Brotherhood Week, and the band also participated in several assemblies and a meeting of the Goodall P. T. A.

The lights had come back on and the band was all packed up, but the dancers did not forget the many hours of pleasure it had given them.
The Statesmen Show Band, decked in trim, bright-orange uniforms added spirited enthusiasm to all home football games this year. Much work went into their successful half-time programs under the capable direction of Mr. Henry Lemcke. Despite the cold and mud, they practiced several times a week to learn new formations. The band accompanied the team to several away games, and one of the most exciting experiences of the year found the whole band boarding three buses for the trip to Quincy, Illinois. After leading the torchlight parade, the Statesmen Show Band ended their successful football season with the Turkey Day Game.

Proving their co-operation and interest, the group sold a record amount of chocolate bars, bringing in a grand total of $1,300. Highlights of their social season included a hayride, "The Blue Moods" Dance, and a farewell picnic.

String orchestra plus symphony orchestra equals many fine musical programs. Joining with symphonic band members, after the Christmas holidays the string orchestra expanded into the complete symphony orchestra for the spring concert season. The organization presented varied programs in the St. Louis County Music Festival for bands and orchestras and in its annual spring concert for the general public on May seventh. Soft music, played by a selected group, provided a background for Echo Coronation maids moving down the aisle.

At the beginning of the year, members of the string orchestra joined with Senior High Band students to sell chocolates for fund-raising.

Social activities? Of course! As they had done for chocolate sales, the orchestra and band joined together for fun.

The Junior Band, under the direction of Mr. Walter Lathen, met every other day to study various fundamentals in music and to practice for their engagements.

Every Tuesday night the band held an extra rehearsal to help perfect their numbers, and after five such rehearsals the members presented a program for their parents to show them what they had accomplished during the night rehearsals.

During the Christmas season the band played carols in a business district and at a grade school. They also participated in several grade school parades.

The Junior band gave its own Spring Concert in March and again participated in the County Music Festival in April.

The annual band picnic completed their successful year of activities.

With finances from the sale of chocolate in October, the Concert Band traveled to Springfield and Columbia to present programs. November was filled with performances for the Goodall P. T. A. and the band parents, and a more relaxing evening spent on a hay ride.

Gathered at the City Hall in December, the Concert and Junior Bands played a group of Christmas carols, and after the holidays several band members began the new year with rehearsals with the All-County Band.

"Blue Moods," the annual band dance in January, actually served to drive away those blues from many Websterites. The next months found the band presenting a performance for the High School P. T. A., giving a pop concert, and participating in the County Music Festival. They ended a successful year in May with their annual spring concert.

Providing all the glamour and excitement of a miniature Broadway, Dramatics Club gave interested students a chance to join in the production of Little Theatre plays. Members signed up for various crews, on which they were trained in applying stage make-up, constructing scenery, or regulating the light board. Aspiring actors and actresses competed in try outs for play parts. The goal of almost every member was the hundred work hours he had to attain in order to be eligible for Thespians.

Hunting for new ideas for Little Theatre productions, as well as just having a good time, this year Dramatics Club members went as a group to see plays put on by other high schools. They also took a jaunt down to the American Theatre, but in spite of all the "play-going" were careful not to neglect their annual Halloween party and spring picnic.

Oscar Wilde’s delightful British comedy The Importance of Being Earnest, which spoofs stilted society, concerns two young women both of whom are determined to marry men named Earnest. When two men pretend to have that name, complications arise from their efforts to keep their real names secret. All ends happily when one gentleman discovers that he was the baby found in a briefcase in a railroad station and therefore his name really is Earnest. The other? His ladyfriend decides a name does not make that much difference.

A psychological drama, The Man, by Mel Dinelli, creates a tense, suspenseful mood. The man, a small person who feels that people make fun of him, becomes increasingly obsessed with this idea. He seizes the opportunity to be a roomer at Mrs. Gillis’s home and thereby to dominate the kind-hearted woman. All her attempts to escape him fail. Finally the telephone repairman discovers her plight and agrees to rescue her. At this point Dinelli provides both a happy and a tragic ending, leaving the choice up to the director. The Little Theatre director chose the latter.

Will Shakespeare’s Taming of the Shrew coupled with Christopher Fry’s A Phoenix Too Frequent closed the dramatic season for ‘58-’59.

Set in Italy, The Taming of the Shrew concerns a sharp-tongued, demanding woman who marries a shrewd gentleman attracted to her wealth and the challenge of disciplining her. He uses devious means to coerce her into obedience . . . and succeeds.

Filling out an evening of cultural comedy, Fry’s “long-short” play, done in blank verse, is a retelling of the Matron of Ephesus story of a pious widow—and her maid—who mourns the death of her husband . . . but not for long.

Donning a yellow and blue beanie, trying to get members' signatures on scrolls, learning about Thespis, the first actor — all these activities make up a Thespian candidate's busy week before initiation. The tiny silver and blue pin showing the masks of comedy and tragedy which he finally receives represents at least one hundred hours of work on two or more Little Theatre productions, a good grade average, and a willingness to become a part of the group which is the backbone of the dramatics department. Members of the honorary organization, under the direction of their new sponsor, Miss Ganahl, held responsible positions in the Little Theatre. To them was given the task of fund-raising—selling season tickets and running a Dance Carnival booth.

Climaxing their twenty-fourth successful year, Thespians held their annual banquet this spring.

The 1958 season for the hardworking gridiron squad was a successful one despite what the record might depict. No team in past years has had such a great combination of ability and determination. Mr. Ray Moss, now in his seventeenth year as head football coach, ably assisted by Coaches Graham, Melvin, and Browning, worked a squad of thirty-seven boys, and developed an aggressive group.

The season itself began slowly with a defeat at the hands of the Alton Hilltoppers, and not until the Ritenour game did the Statesmen show their true colors. From then on the season, with the exception of the University City game, proved a complete success climaxed by a spectacular Turkey Day Game. The determined squad rushed to an overwhelming victory in a game which rivaled all previous Thanksgiving Games. Touchdowns were made by Ron Collier and Bob Trenholm. Bob Brown, Nelson Crenshaw, and Warren Brown, spurring the team to victory, proved more than successful in their endeavors as tri-captains.

Throughout the 1959 season, the Statesmen basketball squad has had tremendous success. Mr. Tyke Yates, basketball coach for the last eighteen years, had this to say about the boys: "One of the greatest assets of this team was its unusual exhibition of team play. The boys always worked together as a unit. They played fine defense and had the unusual ability to shoot from the floor with great accuracy. This fact is proven by the team shooting percentage of 58% for the season. This team will also be long remembered for its hard work in practice and the desire to excel on the part of the individual players. The 1958-59 team was one of the finest in the history of our school."

The one loss of the season was a "squeaker" to C. B. C. in the Normandy Tournament finals. In contrast to this, the boys were at their best in the Webster Invitational finals, when, against St. Charles, the score was 48-22 at the half! In the second clash with St. Charles, Charles Redmon, in the second overtime, made the point which won the game!

Dave Stegmund and John Russell, both high scorers of the season, along with Charlie Redmon, Bill Vahle, Don Shannon, and John Shelton consistently played good ball.

In the thrilling Mehlville Regionals, the boys finished first, victorious over a powerful DuBourg team; but in their second loss of the season, the Statesmen bowed to the St. Louis Billikens in the State Regionals. As a team, the 1958-59 buckets squad will have few equals in the coming years.

One Hundred Twenty-five
Although Webster's swimming teams in the past two years have had significant success, the 1959 shark-men set remarkable records. In every meet the boys, coached by Mr. Bob Graham, demonstrated drive and ability, and they capped honors wherever they swam.

Beating Ladue for the first time in a dual meet was one of the spectacular thrills of the season.

At the state meet, the swimmers took second place, setting two state records—one in the 200-yard freestyle relay and the other in the 200-yard medley relay.

Consistent winners during the season were: backstroke—Alexander and Bashford; freestyle—Alexander, Bush, McIntosh, and Willert; breaststroke—Murdock and Church; butterfly—Menke; and individual medley—Gushaw.
The 1959 wrestling squad, coached by Mr. Leonard Bryant, managed to finish with a creditable 6-8 record after a grueling season. The grapplers started their season with four quick victories, easily defeating Clayton, University City, Lindbergh, and Ferguson. The most successful of the later matches proved to be with De Bourg and Riverview Gardens in which the records were 46-0 and 29-18 respectively, in favor of the Statesmen.

Outstanding individual records were held by Bob Brown, 17-3; Warren Townsend, 21-1; Harry Stewart, 17-3; and Doug Steed, 18-2.

The team placed second in the District Tournament, and fifth at state — Bob Brown taking first, Doug Steed second, Warren Townsend and Harry Stewart third, and Norman Vegely fourth.
The 1958 golf team, coached by Tyke Yates, was again successful during their season. Compiling a record of five wins and six losses, the golfers took eleventh place in the grueling district tournament.

Fred Scott, head golfball, led the boys with an amazing average of 40 per game. Jack Mannion, Bob Denckhoff, and Jim Townsend followed close behind. With the aid of the returning lettermen, the 1959 golf team should prove to be even more successful than its worthy predecessors.
Tennis at Webster Groves has reached an all time high, with last year's team probably as good as any Webster can hope to have.

The team, coached by Mr. Graham, won eight of its nine matches, and displayed remarkable ability throughout the season. Webster easily swept the Suburban League Tournament, with Warren Townsend and Jerry Regenstein taking first place in doubles. At Columbia, Jerry Johnson and George Schoene won the state doubles championship for the second year in a row.
Coach Freebel Gaines led his Statesmen Ball-players to a victorious season in 1958, ending with the record of eleven and five. Easily winning the second place in the league, the boys showed true ability and sportsmanship throughout the season.

The outstanding game occurred at Kirkwood. Jim Card, leading pitcher for the Statesmen, pitched a spectacular no-hit game, allowing only one base-on-balls. In the tournament, Webster beat Brentwood 8-6 in the tenth inning, but lost to a determined Hancock squad also in the tenth inning.

Players worthy of mention were Ronnie Thalmann and Gene McArtor, long-ball hitters, and John Russell, winner of the batting championship with an average of .411. Gene McArtor, Bill Pollock, Rusty Williams, Bob Charow, and Ronnie Thalmann were the returning lettermen from the previous season.
Swinging into action soon after school reopened in the fall, hockey enthusiasts from the tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grades began practicing diligently. From this group, girls from each of the three grades were chosen to represent their respective classes on the hockey teams.

All three teams met the same opponents, but with different results. The sophomores, headed by Joanie Rasmussen, beat Ritenour, tied Maplewood and Kirkwood, and lost to U. City. The Juniors, captained by Karen Bendler, beat Maplewood, tied Clayton, and lost to Kirkwood. The Seniors, with captain Marietta Schiebe, trounced Maplewood, tied Kirkwood and U. City, but lost to Clayton. The Varsity team, composed of the most outstanding players from each class team, beat Bayless, tied Clayton, and lost to U. City.

Since hockey was introduced to Webster in 1928, it has become one of the most popular of girls’ sports. Requiring coordination, quick thinking, and exact timing as well as physical endurance, hockey lives up to its reputation of an exciting and exhausting sport.

Kenamore, Kennedy, Sommer, Gaebler, Monroe, Landwehr, Parker, Wagner, Williams, Rasmussen, McCarron, Lance, Nelson, Vahe, Reed.
Baur, Schwendinger, Ruengert, Beyer, Campbell, Barbush, Davis, Reinhard, Fisher, Marecek, Thurman, Mills, McColloch, Holzapfel.
Duenke, Hays, Werthmuller, Pennell, Beaman, Metcalf, Summa, Noel, Everett, Toenges, Henderson, Hofer, McNeilly, Scheibe.
"Tenpin enthusiasts" at Webster flocked to the Brentwood Bowling Lanes on alternate Mondays during the six-round tournaments conducted each semester for "G.A.A. members only."

Divided into teams of five members each, the girls competed not only for the highest team score, but also for the highest individual averages. After each round the team records and highest individual average were posted on the girls' gym bulletin board. Handled in an unusual way this year, the tournament allowed every team to play a different group each bowling day.

Again this year the bowling alley management offered a special program before the fall tournament — a film and special instruction to help the girls improve their bowling skills.

One Hundred Thirty-two
Basketball enthusiasts were divided into two sections: coaching and intramurals. Those girls wishing to participate in the coaching group were required to pass a test of basketball skills.

The intramural teams set up a tournament among themselves. Out of twenty-four teams, Nancy Stork's senior team placed first in the tournament.

From the coaching groups, the sophomore, junior, and senior class teams were chosen. The varsity team was formed by the outstanding players from the class teams.

The Basketball Sports Day held on February 14 at Webster marked the highpoint of the basketball season. The sophomore class team, headed by Judy Sammer, lost to Wellston. The undefeated junior team with captain Marilyn Fisher beat Ferguson. Captained by Sally Pennell, the Senior team rallied to defeat Mehlville.

The class teams and the varsity team can be proud of their excellent records. They exhibited not only excellent sportsmanship but also exceptional skill.

"Hang it up, Girls!"

One Hundred Thirty-three
Alertness during a game, skill in repeated volleys, accuracy in serving, and height in vertical jumping were just some of the many factors considered by Miss Daniel and Miss Bowe in the selection of the class volleyball teams. Seniors, Juniors, and Sophomores had separate requirements for these tests and the girls who scored highest were put into coaching. The final class teams, chosen from the coaching groups, played games against Kirkwood, Maplewood, and University City, while the varsity team, composed of the best players from each of the separate class teams, played Kirkwood, Maplewood, and Normandy.

In the Intramural division of this spring sport, the girls were divided into fifteen teams composed of approximately eleven members each. Each team member was required to play three games in order to earn fifty points.

As in all sports, Webster’s teams not only played well, but also displayed a fine spirit of sportsmanship.
Grabbing softballs and bats, sportsminded gals joined in either intramurals or coaching last spring. The intramural group was divided into teams who competed for the championship.

Judged according to their skill, girls had to pass certain required tests in order to participate in coaching. Competition ran high because Miss Bowe chose the sophomore, junior, and senior class teams from this group.

The top of the tops—the varsity team members, chosen from the three class teams, played three games. In the first two games, with Ritenour and Riverview, they were defeated in score but not in spirit. The dauntless group rallied to regain their prestige by conquering our traditional rival, Kirkwood.

All of the groups, under the capable coaching of Miss Bowe, were seen earnestly practicing not only their skills, but also good sportsmanship at the school field and Blackburn Park.

Striving "to further the ideals of good sportsmanship, fair play and friendship" among the girls taking part in sports activities, the Girls' Athletic Association, now in its forty-first year, encouraged participation in hockey, basketball, volleyball, softball, bowling, and tennis. Because of increased interest, a fall badminton tournament was held in addition to the usual spring tournament.

One-hundred points earned in intramural sports or in class team activity is a prerequisite for membership in G. A. A. To stay in the club, each girl must maintain an additional fifty points per semester, attend meetings regularly, and pay dues promptly.

The activities of the group included operating a food truck at each home football game, a coke party for new girls, Dad's Night, and the Mother-Daughter Banquet held in the spring. From the food truck, eight concessionaires prepared and sold cokes, hot dogs, popcorn, and "Sno-Cones" to the hungry spectators. Square dancing and a hula hoop contest were the highlights of Dad's Night. The main feature of the Mother-Daughter Banquet was the presentation of the awards which were based on the number of points earned by the individual girls and ranged from the cherished two thousand point silver loving cup to the small orange-and-black "W". In March, the G. A. A.'s worked hard preparing for the annual Kampus King Dance, for which five senior boys were selected by the members as jacks. From these jacks the senior school girls elected one to be the Kampus King of 1959.

To the Class of '59

JOHN DONLEY
Dear Alma Mater,

To you I write for the sake of posterity. Here I record the simple joys your hallowed halls have afforded me... my locker — that glorious coffin-shaped metal box in which I could always squeeze one more book, until I opened the door... the tardy bell which pealed out its dulcet tones when I was situated approximately one conversation's worth and one hallway's distance from my appointed destination... and upon arriving at class rather hurriedly, I could cheerily discover that I was a celebrity — my name was in bold black letters on the absence sheet. At this point I easily incurred difficulties — explanations.

"But who can say that a student from Webster is not well educated? Why just the other day I learned... in psychology that adolescence means the time when a girl begins to powder and a boy begins to puff; in home economics that ice cream is milk, scared stiff; in biology that a whale is a sardine that made good; in orchestra that an oboe is an English tramp; in English that information is what airplanes fly; in my extra-curricular activities that a kiss is a mouthful of nothing that tastes like heaven and sounds like a cow pulling her foot out of the mud."

Here are some other valuable pieces of information I have acquired at school. If you can keep your head when all about you are losing theirs, you just don't understand the situation.

Old Teachers Never Die, They Just Grade Away!

What good is happiness; it can't buy money! He has that certain nothing.

I know you will like some of the snaps that I have enclosed.

Sincerely,

Your Faithful '59 er

P.S.

I thought that you might like to read what a few of the statements our teachers make...

Miss Schowengerdt: "Time is of the essence."
Mr. Boyd: "Gooosey's on fire!"
Mr. Kleyboecker: "Tilt."
Mr. Fues: "Measure down ¼ inch and draw a line..."
Mr. Settle: "Wait a minute there, Bub."
Miss Bynum: "This is only an overnight book."
Mrs. Bopp: "Where were you sixth hour???"
Mrs. Bernard: "All right now then..."
Miss Farmer: "Today, we'll start with review. Pat Ederle..."
