Walt Whitman spoke of his future as

. . . the world before me,

The long brown path before me leading wherever I choose.

This path is one of many variations. We find some of these in high school; others, elsewhere. Which to take must be chosen with the utmost care. We are each beginning to decide which path to take. Some of us have just started deciding; others are well on their way. These paths, beaten or unexplored, will guide us the rest of our lives.

It is to these pathways to the future that The Echo of 1962 is dedicated.
“Men are never so likely to settle a question rightly as when they discuss it freely.”

Thomas Macaulay
"It is vain to be always looking toward the future and never acting toward it."

John Boyes
"The sweetest and most inoffensive path of life leads through the avenues of science and learning; and whoever can either remove any obstruction in this way, or open up any new prospect, ought, so far, to be esteemed a benefactor to mankind."

David Hume
"The punishment suffered by the wise who refuse to take part in government, is to live under the government of bad men."

Bob Karasek, as President of the Student Council, personally entered into the work of every committee. During the summer he devoted many hours to compiling and publishing the handbook. His enthusiastic support of the Council's projects helped Webster maintain its high standard of student government.

In Tom Kerwin's two-fold duty of vice-president of the Student Council and presiding officer of the Guidance Council, he efficiently kept the Student Council informed on the progress and problems of the Honor System. Furthermore, he supervised all student discipline activities of the Guidance Council.
In 1961-62 the Student Council, besides sponsoring its usual activities, brought about many worthwhile innovations.

September 11-15 marked the annual Hello Week and Football Week. Later in the fall season the traditional magazine sales was held. On November 1 the Student Council held its second annual Pancake Supper for the benefit of the foreign student fund. All the usual pre-Turkey Day festivities were carried out again this year, and despite the rainy weather, the huge bonfire once more kindled the spirits of all loyal Websterites. The Council also sponsored its yearly Twin Twirl Dance, this time with “Shipwreck” as its theme, and the “twist” definitely superseding any other kind of dance.

In the line of new developments, the handbook and school crest were both successfully established. Also the old plan of electing Sophomore Cheerleaders in the fall was adopted, but with many new details insuring its smooth operation.

The Guidance Council is a non-punitive body composed of seven members. It is headed this year by Tom Kerwin in his capacity as vice-president of the school and includes school president Bob Karasek plus three seniors, one junior, and one sophomore elected at large from their respective classes.

The basis for the functioning of Guidance Council is the honor code. The code this year contained no major changes from that of last year. The most important point was still the clause which restricts cheating, although other points presented more pressing problems to the everyday efficiency of the school. The most abused point was that one concerning joining the lunch line at the end. It is the purpose of Guidance Council to deal with those who have signed and violated the code. Although the council has no punitive power, they appeal to the students’ reason and attempt to demonstrate the purpose of the rules.

Vatan Barlas

The many student council projects for support of the foreign exchange student program were rewarded in late August with the arrival of Vatan Barlas, our foreign exchange student from Turkey. Vatan comes from the city of Konya, where he attended Konya collage. In his school, which is similar to a boy's boarding school in America, he studied fourteen subjects. He has studied English for six years and his fluency in this language is such that he was able to enter an English Literature class at Webster.

Vatan finds that extra-curricular activities at Webster are similar to those sponsored by his school in Turkey. There Vatan participated in such activities as basketball and student council.

Vatan has had several new experiences in his year here. Soon after his arrival he was introduced to the games of tennis and baseball. He also celebrated Christmas in the traditional American way with his foster family, the Shaws.

We all hope that Vatan's year at Webster has been an interesting and rewarding one, and that he will return to Turkey with fond memories of his stay in America.

"Happy Birthday!"  "Good Luck!"  "Merry Christmas!"
"No mystic charm, no mortal art,
Can bid our loved companions stay;
The bands that clasp them to our heart
Snap in death's frost and fall apart;
Like shadows fading with the day,
They pass away."

Activities
The Echo

The Echo staff mixed work with pleasure to prepare the yearbook now in your hands. The work was divided so that different staff members were occupied with writing, editing, advertising, selling and managing. All members co-operated to finance the publication costs by selling advertising, candy at the football games and subscriptions to the book. In addition, the staff held several bake sales and cookie sales to pay for the souvenir programs which were given at "Over the Rainbow," the Echo Coronation Dance.

A change of pace was furnished at times by several parties given to celebrate almost anything: birthdays, Thanksgiving, Halloween and Christmas. The staff ended their year with a banquet at which they received the first copies of the yearbook.

After two years, The Webster Echo has found that its divided editorial staff not only relieves the tension of meeting monthly deadlines but it also gives more people an opportunity to develop their talents in the field of journalism.

At the State Journalism convention at Columbia, Missouri, The Webster Echo won the Missouri Interscholastic Press Association Sweepstakes Award for the third consecutive year, having winners in sports writing, yearbook copywriting, feature writing, advanced newswriting and yearbook layout. Besides the Sweepstakes award, they managed to elect junior Bob Trotter to the presidency of M. I. P. A. for the 1962-63 school year.

To help finances the staff planned and executed several rummage and cookie sales. For the most part, the paper is self-supporting, gathering its finances from advertising and subscriptions. The staff had several informal parties, and during the Christmas holidays they entertained former staff members at an annual alum tea.

In the spring a banquet was held at which the retiring staff members were presented with gifts, and the new staff members were announced.

In the late spring of 1961 a number of students who had applied for a position in the journalism class of 1961-62 were notified of their acceptance. However, the beginning of their work did not wait until the start of the new school year. During late August they spent much of their time preparing copy for the first issue of The Webster Echo which was distributed on the first day of school.

These students soon became indoctrinated to the fundamentals of journalism, in preparation for the time they would operate the paper.

They soon learned there is more to journalism that beat sheets and deadlines. In October they aided in planning the Paper Doll prom. They assumed much of the responsibility for the Alum Tea, rummage sales, and the folding parties which precede every issue of the paper.

In addition, The Webster Echo's success at the M. I. P. A. convention and the Washington University Conference was due a great deal to the diligence and talent of the J-students.

Quill & Scroll

President — Kathy Procopio

Secretary — Ann O'Brien

Quill and Scroll is an international honorary journalistic society, whose members are chosen on the basis of scholarship and achievement. To be eligible for membership a student must rank in the upper third of his class and must be recommended by his sponsor for superior work in the field of writing, editing, or business management on The Echo or The Webster Echo. Finally, candidates must be approved by a national officer of Quill and Scroll before becoming a member of the organization.

The National Forensic League met every other day for instruction in debate, interpretative leading, original and non-original oratory and extemporaneous speaking.

Various interscholastic contests throughout the year put the N. F. L.'s practice to the test. Included in their schedule were two practice debates, one at Jennings and one at Clayton, and a city-county debate tournament at St. Louis University High School, in which the group finished second. The debate highlight of the year was a KXOK "Junior Town Meeting of the Air," presented by five N. F. L. members. On March 19-20 the group sponsored their annual Webster Tournament, which included competition in all four phases of their study.

The N. F. L. also supervised an interesting program given in December by a Lindenwood student. The girl had been an exchange student in Ireland and presented an account of her travel to various classes of our school.

Mu Alpha Theta

The Webster chapter of Mu Alpha Theta, a national mathematics organization, was formed two years ago to promote the scholarship, enjoyment and understanding of mathematics. The chapter's basic activity was the bi-monthly lecture. These ranged in importance from those given by professors from Washington University and St. Louis University to those presented by members. Lectures covered such topics as weak rings, "strong" curves, Peano postulates and the Konigsberg bridge problem.

Interested members also had the opportunity to engage in the tutoring program which was held before and after school on Tuesdays and Thursdays. This program had a two-fold purpose: to make low-cost tutoring available to Webster students and to increase the math library by providing funds for the purchase of books. By the end of the year the club had bought many new and interesting books.

The James T. Hixson Chapter of the Future Teachers of America has spent a busy year fulfilling the club purpose of "informing students about teaching as a career." The club had its meetings on alternate Thursday afternoons and tried to keep them informative with speakers or movies or discussions. This schedule was augmented by a number of special trips. On December 12, the group visited the Missouri School for the Blind and later in the year toured Lindenwood College in St. Charles. The final trip was in the spring, when each member spent a day visiting and observing the class of her choice in the Webster Groves public school system.

The climaxing event of the year was the Teacher Recruitment Dinner, also in the spring, which was sponsored by the Board of Education. The F. T. A. group helped with the program and were guests at the dinner given annually for seniors who have indicated an interest in teaching.

The activities of the Junior Red Cross began again this year with the election of Red Cross representatives in homerooms. The annual enrollment campaign followed shortly after, and all homerooms eventually achieved 100 per cent participation. As an autumn project the Junior Red Cross also sold TB pins to students, with the proceeds going to the Tuberculosis Fund.

At Christmas the Junior Red Cross sponsored a drive to fill stockings for distribution to various hospitals and old folk’s homes in the area. As another Christmas project they decorated the veteran’s dining hall at Jefferson Barracks for a party.

Junior Red Cross members gave their time in other ways. Some of them assisted with Bloodmobile activities, and the entire group sponsored a play which was presented at Veteran’s Hospital. Members of Mrs. Smizer’s drama classes assisted in the production of this play.

During the spring the Junior Red Cross undertook several other new projects. They made holiday favors for the use of various area hospitals and also made stuffed animals and woodworking projects for distribution to sick children in hospitals. Future plans include a school wide drive to collect cartoon clippings. These cartoons will be made into scrapbooks and sent to several hospitals. Through all these efforts the Junior Red Cross has given another year of valuable service to the community.

The Youth For Christ Bible Club met every Wednesday morning before school. The purpose of the club is to give inspiration and fellowship to the student members. At the meetings members often saw enlightening films or heard guest speakers who gave informative talks on subjects of particular interest to the group.

The club’s activities were not limited to weekly meetings, however. On several Saturdays during the month the group met with other Y. F. C. clubs in the area for rallies. They also had a Bible Quiz Team which challenged quiz teams from other Bible clubs.

Participation in the national Y. F. C. convention in Chicago was another activity which added to an interesting and inspiring year for the members.

Youth For Christ
Many senior girls made Tri Hi Y a very significant part of their lives.

During last summer one club made a trip to Minnesota, financed by money the members had earned themselves. Their activities were many and varied, falling mainly into three categories: social, money raising and charity.

Social activities included a tea which one club held for their mothers, and a talk by a book reviewer who was heard with another club.

Money raising projects ranged from a Christmas Bazzar to candy sales. All of the clubs joined in the production of the Buzz Book. The sale of the Buzz Books provided funds for the operations of the youth council. This council is made up of two representatives from each Hi Y and Tri Hi Y club and was headed by Linda Bemis as president.

The most important project of the year was the Model Legislature at Jefferson City. Preparation for the Bills they presented there began as early as January.

While the hot summer dragged on, boys from the Hi Y clubs were busy organizing and selling ads for the 1961-62 Buzz Book.

Each club is an independent unit with its own officers, but they do band together for such projects as the Buzz Book and the Friendship Dance which they present in co-operation with the Kirkwood Hi Y clubs.

Besides personal projects such as hayrides and car washes, the clubs competed in football and basketball tournaments.

In December the senior clubs were active in the Y. M. C. A. Model convention for Youth and Government, held at Washington University. At that time Bob Shaw was elected Chaplain of the House of Representatives. In the spring the clubs took an active part in both the judicial and legislative branches of the Youth and Government program at Jefferson City.

The year was climaxed by the Hi Y senior date weekend at Trout Lodge.

Student Librarians

"2c compounded semi-annually"

The office assistants played an important part in the running of an efficient communication system in such a large school as Webster. They perform such valuable services as delivering messages and office request slips, picking up the hourly attendance slips, and taking around the daily absence sheets. In addition they find time to answer phones or do filing in the office.

To become an office assistant, one must have above a C average and also must be able to give up a daily study hall to work in the office. It is also important that they be a responsible and trustworthy person.

Not only do the office assistants have the satisfaction of being a part of a valuable school service, but they also gain experience which may help to prepare them for summer jobs or for entrance into the business world.

Known for their helpfulness, the library assistants have always played a large part in aiding Webster students in the selection of books and in maintaining an efficient library. They spend at least one free period a day in the library, during which time they check and shelve books, collect fines, and prepare new copies for shelving.

This year the student librarians have begun several new projects. For instance, they have assisted with the preparation of the new magazine shelving which is currently being added to the reference room of the library. Another project which has been undertaken is the cataloging of every play in the library.

The traditional Christmas party was one of the social activities which filled out a rewarding year for the student librarians.

Audio Visual Operators

The Webster High Audio-Visual Operators continued in its tradition of furnishing the school fine service. The thirty members donated their study halls and extra time throughout the year so that students might have the added benefits of audio-visual education.

In addition to providing this service to the academic classes, the A. V. O. also functioned during assemblies and pep rallies, providing the necessary sound equipment and setups to make the activities heard by all the students. Occasionally, when equipment needed repairs, the members of A. V. O. were competent enough to do much of the work themselves. This resulted in a much more efficient organization. The A. V. O. did not operate specifically as a club, but meetings were held when they were necessary to iron out some problem in the performance of their services. The A. V. O. is indispensable to Webster High, and it is fortunate that these boys sacrificed their time.

Lighting Crew

Working behind the scenes for the most part, the Light Crew provided many services at Webster High. Led by president Tom Collins, the boys were continually at work on some new electrical or lighting project. Evidence of their work can be seen in the new public address systems installed in the cafeteria and Robert’s Gym and in the phone system for the auditorium. Besides serving the school by installing new things, the boys also take care of and operate the lights and sound equipment for all student assemblies, plays and dances. Outside school, the Light Crew provides light and sound for many community functions such as the Kiwanis Kapers show and symphony concerts. All these activities are invaluable services to the school.

LATINUS RUMOR

The Latinus Rumor, published monthly, has grown to a circulation of about four hundred. It not only reaches students at Webster High and the three junior high schools, but is also sent to many students at college and is exchanged with Latin newspapers throughout the country. At the national convention of the Junior Classical League at Indiana University, Latinus Rumor was heralded as the best mimeographed paper in the country.

The paper includes many features which have become traditional. Special articles are also included which pertain to the month of publication.

CONVENTUS LATINUS

The club, which meets monthly, was entertained by many programs. Dr. Raymond McCallister of the Webster Groves Christian Church was the speaker at the induction of new members. At a later meeting Tom Pope spoke about his trip to the national J. C. L. Convention, while other meetings featured a Cicero debate and skits by the Latin classes.

At Christmas, the club held a party in the cafeteria which was attended by Santa Claus. The club raised money for its annual gift to Farmington Orphange by selling cookies.

The German Club has had a very active year. Its main project, called “Operation Letterwriting,” involved the exchange of letters with pen pals in East Germany, in a united effort to bridge the gap between Germany and the United States. The club also received German newsreels and a weekly German newspaper, Deutsche Wochen Shrif, published in St. Louis.

The members enjoyed singing the folk songs of Germany, and provided accompaniment by recording their own musical tapes. They also played German games and presented a German play at their Christmas party.

The Shaw Theatre in St. Louis gave them the opportunity to attend German movies, and the club took advantage of it whenever possible. These authentic films were supplemented by travel movies seen in meetings.

Through these interesting activities the club has increased their knowledge of the German language and has had a lot of fun doing it.

President — SANDRA GRANVILLE
Vice President — RUTH BOUTIN

According to Mrs. Koons, the sponsor of the club, the main purpose of the group is “to gain a deeper understanding of the Russian people.” To further this end, the meetings of the club have been devoted to the study of Russian life and culture.

In addition to these informative meetings the Russian Club planned several spring excursions. The Russian movies which they saw at Washington University gave them a better insight into Russian life. They also visited a Russian Orthodox Church at Easter, which is the high point of the Russian religious year.

To finance their activities the club sponsored a series of international cookie sales in the cafeteria. In this way Webster students have become aware of the interesting activities of the Russian Club.

The French Club began their year by electing officers and planning the year's programs. The fall program was highlighted by hearing about France from Mrs. Elizabeth Schreiber, who is the head of the Washington University French Department. Her numerous visits to France helped make her talk on French life interesting to all who heard her.

In the early part of December many of the French students participated in original French skits. Later in that month the club held a Christmas party at which several skits were given depicting French Christmas customs. All of the members sang carols, which of course were in French.

In the spring a puppet show and a trip to the Art Museum were very informative and interesting.

Riding Club

In accordance with the traditional purpose of the Riding Club, which is to introduce beginning horseback riders to the sport, the members went on three rides during the past year. They also visited Missouri Stables and Babler State Park.

The members enjoyed an informal relationship among themselves, for instead of attending regular meetings and paying dues, the club preferred to have a good time in planning and going on their riding trips. These trips provided both education and a good time for the beginning riders. Notwithstanding the fact that members were often saddle sore, they looked forward to their jaunts as they galloped over the country side enjoying the wonders of nature and a comradeship with their fellow members.

"Three iron 'em outs!" was the familiar cry heard by the Webster students at basketball and football games. The co-leaders of the group were responsible for the enthusiasm of their members as the Varsity Club cheered on Webster's teams throughout the year. By wearing white shirts to the games, this cheering section made an impressive appearance in the stands.

Two new projects were undertaken by the Club. They sold Turkey Day tickets with free turkeys as the prizes to the ten most ambitious salesmen, and, along with the Pep Club, took turns serving Cokes after the games to both the home team and the visiting team.

Under the supervision of Mr. Hoffman, the club did much to add to the spirit of the already enthusiastic Webster fans, who have continued to cheer on their team in true loyal fashion.

Varsity Pep Club

Varsity Pep Club required all members to wear their orange sweatshirts in order to sit in the cheering section at home games. The unified effect thus achieved added to the usual support of the cheerleaders.

To boost the general school spirit for football games, the club each week made numerous posters publicizing the up-coming contest. In addition, they chartered buses for away-games. When Webster played University City in football, the girls furnished cokes for both teams. This plan was adopted as a regular practice for the remainder of the season. For the Turkey Day game the club purchased a huge black banner inscribed in orange with "BEAT KIRKWOOD" and hung it in front of the school.

To support their activities the members sold candy and sponsored a sock hop. The candy was sold during the month of December and the dance was held on February 3rd after the Webster-Maplewood basketball game.

Sophomore Pep Club

The Sophomore Pep Club of 1961-62 has been one of the most active in the organization's history.

Throughout the B Team football and basketball seasons, the girls furnished after-the-game cokes for both the home team and the visiting team.

This enthusiastic group seemed to always be on hand when the Varsity Pep Club needed their cooperation. They helped greatly in distributing the new orange sweatshirts to juniors and seniors, and, of course, the individuals bought them to wear in their own pep section. Also the B Team Pep Club publicized the sock hop given by the Varsity Pep Club.

These girls had such spirit that they even devised a method for installing it in those less interested. They had a system of eighteen homeroom representatives whereby students could find out just what the Pep Club was doing and the representatives could encourage bigger game turnouts.

Music and Drama
The Beginning Choir started the school year with its traditional get-acquainted party which was held at the home of Mary Ann Weaver. The choir was divided into several small groups, each of which presented a clever skit or pantomime to the rest of the choir.

Beginning Choir also took its part in the annual Vesper service. They sang "Vigil," "Come, Marie, Elisabette," and a few well-known carols.

In the A Cappella spring program, "Something Big," the choir presented a carnival scene. This colorful scene included such long-standing carnival favorites as bearded ladies and cotton candy. Beginning choir had an interesting preview of what will come next year in A Cappella Choir, and members discovered, on a smaller scale, what fun and different experiences singing with a group could bring.

At Christmas time the high school auditorium was once more the setting for the Vesper Services. The A Cappella, Beginning, and Boys Choirs, and the angel chorus sang the story of Christ's birth as members of the cast portrayed the story on the stage. The story began in the fields where angels told the shepherds of Christ's birth, and it ended in the stable where people of every race and class came to worship a common king.

The choir members and the cast, as well as the stage, lights, props and make-up crews spent many hours making their Vespers a flawless and meaningful one.

Although the pageant is presented in the same way every year, its meaning and beauty take on new depths each time it is seen. It is a moving experience for all those involved, whether participating in or attending the services.
"Something Big" happened in March. The A Cappella and Beginning Choirs presented their annual spring program involving various types of entertainment. During the first half of the program the A Cappella, dressed in long formals and tuxedos, presented a concert which included such favorites as "Ride the Chariot," "Creation," and "Salutation."

A change of pace was furnished in the second half in which songs and dances from recent Broadway plays were presented. As the choir members began the rush of costume changes and well-timed entrances, they presented a mixture of show-business entertainment. There were scenes set in offices, a girls' academy, and a race track. The last scene from "The Unsinkable Molly Brown," was elaborately set with flowering trees, lattices and a fountain.

The Beginning Choir contributed a "carnival" scene, busy with all parts of carnival characters. The choir sang songs and danced as a calliope played in the background.
The formation of a stage band, known also as a dance band, is the biggest single movement in public school music in many years. In a very short time over two thousand bands of this type have been formed. The purpose of a stage band is to teach the students to play dance music in a professional style.

The stage band performed for several groups during the past year. At a Plymouth Junior High School dance and at a Demolay dance the band furnished the music. They accompanied Elaine and Ninette Knudsen for their featured dance number at the Modern Dance Concert. During the year the band also performed at various P. T. A. meetings. In May the stage band competed in a tournament.

Symphonic Band

The Symphonic Band, containing sixty members, is one of the oldest bands in the St. Louis area. This year the band played at many home football games and at the traditional Turkey Day Game. On November 18, they traveled to Columbia, Missouri to see a Mizzou football game. In addition, at the request of the Chamber of Commerce, they performed at the United Nations Day Celebration.

At the Modern Dance Recital, the Symphonic Band performed music written especially for the program by Alfred Blattner, a former band member. On March 30 they held their eighth annual “Pops” Concert at which the guest artist was Pete Flanders, a piano humorist.

They entered the Ladue High School Band Competition on May 1 and in March took part in the Washington University Suburban Music Festival. They presented their 37th Spring Concert on May 25 and performed at the Graduation exercises of the 1962 class in June.

The 1961-62 orchestra is composed of a string ensemble and the wind and percussion instruments from the symphonic band. This string ensemble, which is the nucleus of the orchestra, meets during the sixth hour.

The string ensemble performed for several functions throughout the year, including the annual dinner of the Webster Groves Men’s Club. On February 7, the ensemble presented a program of string music for all junior high and elementary school string students.

The string ensemble and the wind and percussion instruments from the symphonic band entered the Suburban Music Festival in April and the Suburban Solo and Ensemble Festival on March 30 and 31.

Other of its activities included the annual selling of chocolate, a musical Christmas party, and attendance at a concert given by the St. Louis Symphony.
“Blithe Spirit”

The final Webster dramatics production of the season was Blithe Spirit by Noel Coward. This is a light comedy about an English widower, Mr. Condemine, who remarries. He starts to write a book about sorcerers and conjurers, so he decides to have such a woman come in and hold a seance. At this time Elvira, Mr. Condemine’s first wife, returns to haunt the household. She decides to kill her husband and take him to Paradise with her, but by mistake she murders Ruth, her husband’s second wife. The play ends on a curious note, with Mr. Condemine inviting the “sorceress” out to lunch.

“The Cave Dwellers”

The Cave Dwellers, by William Saroyan, was the first production of this year’s drama department.

It records the adventures of some penniless people who are camping out on the stage of an abandoned theatre that is about to be pulled down for a housing project. One who calls herself “the Queen” is the ruin of a former actress, while “the King” was a celebrated clown. “The Girl” is a homeless frightened wretch who comes in off the streets. There is no plot or conclusion to be drawn from Mr. Saroyan’s play; rather, it abounds in humor, grace and innocence.

“Laura”

The last full-length play given by the 1961-62 players was Laura by Vera Caspary and George Sklar. This clever murder mystery is based on the novel by Vera Caspary. In the story, when Mark McPherson first falls in love with Laura, he knows it is useless—for Laura is dead. He has come to her apartment as a Special Investigator of her murder. From her portraits, letters and impressions left on the three men who loved her, he has created an image of someone who seems very much alive. When she turns up in the midst of a thunderstorm, it becomes obvious that it was not she, but a friend of hers who was killed. All evidence points to Laura’s guilt, and Mark is about to charge her with the murder when the true criminal reappears and attempts to repeat the crime—this time on Laura. In a highly suspenseful scene Mark thwarts the deed.
Under the leadership of President Terry Lay the 1961-62 Dramatics Club has managed to put on three delightful productions.

Early in the school year they gave William Saroyan’s The Cave Dwellers. Although much of the cast had never before been in a high school play, it was a big success under the careful supervision of the Dramatics Club.

In the January Modern Dance Program “Evening of Interpretative Theatre,” the players were an important part. They acted out the three act fantasy Poor Maddalena and in addition provided the off-stage choruses for various portions of the program.

The second production given solely by the Dramatics Club was Laura. They presented this for the public on April 6 in the Little Theatre.

To complete their season, the Dramatics Club along with the drama classes, presented an evening of one act plays in May.

The Thespian initiation, which lasts a week, is held twice a year at the end of each semester. On the first day of this lengthy process, a party is held and the candidates are presented with blue and yellow beanies. The caps must be worn by the initiates for one week. At the end of that time another party is given, and a formal initiation is held.

In the midst of all their activities, the Thespians took time out in the spring for their gala picnic.

Modern Dance

The Modern Dance Club began the year by holding demonstrations for prospective members. After receiving new members, the group divided into Junior and Senior Dance Clubs according to proficiency. These divisions were mainly for the purpose of teaching new members basic skills; and after they learned these, the groups were joined. This year, for the first time, the club had a pianist to accompany their dances.

Meeting every Thursday, the girls spent some time doing exercises and the remainder of the afternoon thinking up ideas for dances and perfecting these. Usually the general idea of a dance is formed before the music or poetry is chosen. Then the dance is put to music and perfected.

All this work was climaxed in the two productions which the Modern Dance Club presented in January and May. In these programs the girls displayed skill in both dancing and choreography.
This year for the first time the dramatics, modern dance, art, music and speech departments combined all their talents in a production entitled Interpretive Theatre. The program, which included a dance-drama, interpretations of poems and music, displayed talent in drama, modern dance and choreography.

During the first act the drama department presented their interpretation of "Poor Maddalena," a short dance-drama. In the same scene the Junior Dance Club contributed to the program by presenting a symbolic representation of life on earth. The whole drama was accompanied by the symphonic band which played original music by Al Blatter, an alumnus of Webster High.

During the second half of the program the Speech Department helped by reading several modern poems to which members of the Senior Dance Club did their own choreography. The Art Department made their contribution in sets and lighting. The combined efforts of these departments helped make this quite an enjoyable program.

Spirit and talent are words that well describe the '61 Statesman football squad. Ably coached by Mr. Moss, Mr. Melvin and Mr. Hoffman, the team played to a successful 6-3 record by beating such tough opposition as University City, Belleville and Ferguson. Fine individual performances helped lead the team through the season. Don Rhodes, Lynn Hall, Hugh Davis and Bill Southworth accounted for much of the ground yardage, while ends Bernie Machen, Tod Eberle and Mike Card were often on the receiving end of Southworth's passes. The line was bolstered by the blocking of Tom Zorumski, Jim Buchholz, Bob Reed and Mike McKee. Bill Bischoff and Reggie Rusan stood out on defense and helped stop opposing runners. However, it is not individuals but the team that wins games, and it is certain that this year's squad will be remembered as one of Webster's finest in recent years.

Varsity Basketball

The 1961-62 Statesmen basketball season was one of exciting games that were well played. In the Suburban League, consisting of top ranked St. Louis teams, the boys took third place. In tournament play, the Statesmen took third place in the Normandy Christmas Tournament and battled their way to the semi-finals of the Webster Groves Tournament. Under the able coaching of Mr. Yates, the team defeated such strong non-league foes as Parkway, Brentwood and Christian Brothers College.

Leading the team to an 18-6 record was John Martz, who had a 19 point scoring average and who won the Suburban League scoring championship. Backing him up were Don Rhodes with an 11 point scoring average, and Homer Drew and Bill Southworth, both showing eight point averages for the season. On defense, Wayne Bill and Buck Clement were usually the boys who drew the assignments to guard the opposing team’s top scorers.

The first University City game and the Maplewood game were probably the most exciting of the season, and, according to Mr. Yates, were the best games the team played. The overtime victory over University City, when the team was hampered by too many fouls, showed Webster’s ability to come from behind. The Maplewood victory was also a big one for Webster, for that win forced Maplewood into a tie for the league title. The season included many exciting victories such as these, and this year’s team deserves recognition as among the better of Webster’s fine teams of past years.

Although hampered seriously by a small team and loss of wrestlers from last year's squad, the 1961 Statesman wrestling team made a fine showing. Coached by Mr. Leonard Bryant, the boys competed in the Suburban League, composed of such perennial powers as Ritenour, Ferguson and Riverview, and also took part in the District Tournament. Webster sent one boy, Jim Buchholz, to the State Tournament, and he won first place in his weight class.

Leading the team through the long season were three consistent winners, Jim Buchholz, who was undefeated for the regular season and state tournament, Jim Williams and Jim Newton, who wrestled in the 138 pound class. The team was mainly made up of Freshmen and Sophomores, many of whom saw regular duty. This abundance of young wrestlers gives good reason to expect a strong squad next year, and great results are foreseen for Statesmen wrestlers in the future.

Wrestling

The 1961 Tennis squad boasted a fine record in the tough Suburban League. Under the coaching of Mr. Fred Boyd, the team played to decisive victories over St. Louis U. High, Ladue, Affton and Clayton.

The season included many important achievements. In the Suburban League Tournament at Kirkwood, the team placed second to Ladue, losing the championship by two points. The squad also fared well in the District Tournament, with George Adams and Scott Beall taking second place in the doubles, allowing them to compete in the State Tournament at Columbia.

Throughout the season the team played with skill and improved as the season progressed. Manfred Reetz, the first player, played some of the top players in the area and more than held his own against them. However, it was the team as a whole which accounted for the squad’s fine record, and this year’s team was certainly deserving of a place among Webster’s best.

The 1961-62 swimming team had a fine season despite serious losses from last year’s team. Coached by Mr. Fred Boyd, the sharkmen swam against such teams as Ladue, Clayton and University City. In the Suburban League Tournament, the statesmen swimmers took sixth place, a good accomplishment considering the other strong teams competing in the tournament. Finishing the season, the team took part in the State Tournament, where Doug Gill took second place in the backstroke event.

Fine individual performances dotted the season. Doug Gill, a Junior, broke two pool records at Ritenour and Lindbergh in the 100-yard backstroke. Consistent performers were Phil Wentworth, Bill Schwaninger and John Pope, all four year men on the team. Looking ahead, Freshman Doug Lonergan offers bright hopes for the future, having placed in all the meets in which he swam. With many letterman returning next year, all indications point to a great 1963 team.

Golf

The 1961 golf team played through its season despite a big handicap. The country clubs of the Webster area would not permit the team to practice on their courses and the golfers had to be content to play their matches with no team practice beforehand. However, Coach Yates' boys performed well under this handicap, winning four matches and losing seven.

All the boys on the team improved as the season progressed, and at the end, Jim Downey had the low nine-hole average of 41.6. He was closely followed by Brian Westphalen, Dave Richter and Louis Beasley.

The 1961 schedule included matches with strong teams from Kirkwood, Lindbergh and Maplewood, with victories over Clayton, Affton, Ritenour and Brentwood. The team also participated in the State Regional Tournament, with Jim Downey placing near the top. However, the team as a whole did not qualify for the State Tournament.

Baseball

The 1961 Baseball season was one of exciting games and plays. Mr. Dick Schuchardt coached the team through a schedule packed with opposition such as Ladue and Kirkwood, the 1961 State Champion.

Outstanding performances by Bill Southworth and Buck Higgins, both batting over .300, helped the team to many victories. John Hotz was the mainstay of the pitching staff and was called on to pitch the more important games. He was helped by Jim Kuhl, Ron Shadwick, and Buck Clement, who also performed well. In the defensive department, centerfielder John McArter did a fine job tracking down hard hit long balls.

In many games the team scored heavily in late innings to win games that seemed to be sure losses. The Maplewood game is an example, in which Webster was five runs behind after four innings, but still won. It is this spirit and aggressiveness that accounted for many of this year's victories.

The Webster High Track Team competed in a long spring season, which brought them up against some very tough opposition. Guided by the able coaching of Mr. Frank Melvin and Mr. Bob Utz, the trackmen produced many fine performances. The season got under way early in March, with many of the boys working out in Roberts Gym because of the extremely cold weather and snow. Once outside, though, the squad rounded into shape.

Outstanding individual performances marked the team. Alan Ude was the foremost sprint man on the squad, competing in the one-hundred and the two-hundred twenty yard dashes. In the longer distances, Bob Reichardt and Tom Brill stood out as the primary Webster point-makers. Mike Card performed well in the pole vault, with Bob Reed and Mike McKee leading in the shotput. The Webster team also boasted one of the finest quarter-mile relay teams in the area. With many boys returning, the team should improve greatly in 1962.

Girls Basketball

After a close intramural tournament, in which team nineteen emerged victorious, class teams were chosen from those girls who had attended the coaching sessions in addition to intramurals.

The sophomore team, which displayed excellent teamwork and skill, achieved the best record of the three teams. They gained their first big victory from Maplewood. Although they suffered defeat against Kirkwood, they came back to defeat Ladue. On Sports Day the sophomores lost to Ferguson bringing their final record down to fifty per cent.

The junior and senior class teams had identical records. They both picked up a win against Maplewood, but lost their next two games to Kirkwood and Ladue. Although they improved, both teams were again defeated on Sports Day.

From the best players on the three class teams a varsity team was chosen which played five games at Bayless, Ladue, Maplewood, University City and Kirkwood.

Hockey was started early this fall under a new plan. All the girls, even those interested in playing on class teams, were put on intramural teams and participated in a tournament in which Debbie Card's team 13 won first place honors. Her team was followed closely by teams 2 and 10 which were tied for second place.

On an additional day each week those girls wishing to be on class teams practiced lunges, blocks and passes, and from these aspirants the three class teams were chosen.

The seniors were undefeated in their four games, trouncing Kirkwood 2 to 0, defeating Clayton by a one point margin, and tying both Ritenour and Maplewood 0 to 0. The Juniors were unable to score in either of their first two games, thus easing to Kirkwood and Ritenour 0-1. They finally scored a goal in their last game and beat Maplewood 1-0. The Sophomores remained scoreless in both their games, but were able to defend their goals as well as their opponents from Kirkwood and Ritenour and thus tied both their games.

The best players of these three teams were chosen to play on the varsity team. Although hampered by bad weather and illness, the team managed to tie both its games. They broke through to score one goal against Bayless, but, although they displayed excellent defense, they were unable to score against Maplewood.

One Hundred Twenty-three
Softball

Although hindered by bad weather, the three girls softball teams class teams were chosen and competed in several games with other schools last spring. After reviewing skills and practicing, the best players in the coaching program were chosen for class teams.

Each of the teams played only two games. The Sophomores played Kirkwood and Ritenour, and lost both games. The Juniors gained a perfect record by defeating both Kirkwood and Ritenour. Playing the same two teams the Seniors divided their games, picking up a win from Ritenour, and losing to Kirkwood.

From these three teams a Varsity Team was chosen, which also played two games. They split their games, defeating Wellston and losing to Ritenour.

Because of unpredictable weather and discontinuation of softball teams by most other schools, it was decided not to have softball class teams this year. However, an improved softball intramural program was organized for all those girls interested in continuing softball.

After learning the new volleyball rules and practicing their serves, set ups and spikes, the girls volleyball intramural program got under way. Under the new rules each girl now is allowed only one hit instead of two as under the old system.

Skill tests were given to all girls who wished to participate in the coaching program which offers additional skills and extra practice in order to prepare for participation on class and varsity teams. From this group class teams were chosen early in March.

The sophomore, junior and senior class teams met Kirkwood at their school and were hostesses to games with Riverview Gardens, University City and Maplewood.

The best players from these three teams were chosen to play on the varsity team which had four games. They traveled to Kirkwood, Maplewood, University City and Ritenour to participate in friendly competition with these teams.

Girls' Athletic Association

President — Kathy Steed
Vice President — Eileen McGary
Secretary — Patty Durham
Treasurer — Cris Kraeger
Historian — Martha Menke

The Girls' Athletic Association, which promotes interest and sportsmanship in girls' sports, sponsors interscholastic teams, holds intramural tournaments, and awards the participants in these activities with letters and cups earned by an accumulation of 750 points or more. In addition to the class team sports, points are given for participation in bowling, badminton, ping-pong, trampoline and assisting as officials.

At the first meeting this year the officers of G. A. A. introduced a new program for girls' sports. Under the new plan all girls, whether they wished to try out for class teams or not, would participate in the intramural program. Those who had additional interest could attend extra practices and increase their skills, thus preparing for class and varsity team competition.

In addition to sports the G. A. A. sponsors several social activities, the first of which was the traditional Dad's night party. Each girl and her father brought a box supper and after dinner participated in either a square dance or a game.

Early in February several girls who had earned 100 points were initiated after entertaining the old members with skits. These initiates joined with the other girls later in the month to begin work on the Kampus King Dance. Five Jacks were nominated by the G. A. A. members and from these nominees all the girls chose a King who was honored with his Jacks in the setting of "Babes in Boyland."

To wind up the year the girls invited their mothers to a banquet at which more girls were initiated, awards were given, and the new officers were installed.

The James T. Hixson Award

The Hixson Award was established by the Student Council of 1954-1955 in honor of Mr. James T. Hixson, Principal of Webster Groves High School for 36 years. The award is active for ten years and in each of those years is to recognize a senior girl and a senior boy for outstanding ability in each of four areas: scholarship, leadership, service and sportsmanship. The winners are announced at an assembly in May. Each winner receives an engraved certificate, and his name is inscribed on a trophy which is the permanent property of the high school. Mr. Hixson, himself, presented the awards for the first five years.

To be eligible for an award a senior must have maintained at least a 2.0 scholastic average for seven semesters and must have been a student at Webster Groves High School for his junior and senior years.

The Scholarship Award is given to the highest ranking girl and boy in the graduating class.

For the Leadership Award and the Service Award five girls and five boys are nominated for each award by the members of the senior class. From these two lists faculty committees choose the winners.

From the list of major lettermen the members of the senior class nominate five boys for the Sportsmanship Award. A faculty committee selects the winner. From the list of girls who have earned at least a thousand points in athletics they nominate five girls. A faculty committee chooses the winner.

Golden Wedding Anniversary

Here we are at Sandy’s and Chuck’s Golden Wedding Anniversary. It doesn’t seem possible that fifty years have passed since the Class of ’62 left dear old Webster High. Funny how time flies.

Why there’s Sharon Boggess still dancing up a storm. Didn’t the Cape slow her down just a little? Franz and Antonio are having another Twist Contest. Wonder who’ll win this time.

The old men have just gotten up a little game of ball. There go Martz and Bill out on the court, followed by the rest of the bucket-ball team. And wait, here come the Senior cheerleaders. What a fine group of girls—too bad they can’t cheer. It’s funny to see Newburg sit on the side lines. I bet she’s just real restless, always wanting to jump.

Jim O’Brien has finally become one of the richest men in the world. He started out with nothing but soon worked his way up. Have you ever heard of “Pennies for Silas”?

Many of the Webster couples are still together after these fifty years. Jim and Carol, Strode and Pam, and Sue and John. Too bad the others couldn’t have lasted. This class also has its group of old maids. Surprisingly enough, this bunch includes Karen Bernard and Margie Brown. Quite opposite from their high school days when they always had some boys tagging along. Rock Bergman is also single; just couldn’t find a man stronger than herself.

Uniforms at Webster

The varsity squad of the Webster High Basketball Team has started a new revolution in the type of uniforms worn before a large audience. No longer will you see the team come dribbling on to the court either in their dingy orange T-shirts or in their dirty white ones which look like your granddad’s undershirt. Parents were shocked to see the boys display themselves in such skimpy attire.

At last the team has come up with a new idea. From now on, all basketball teams of this school will dress in the following fashion. Each player must wear the standard black shirts. Mr. Yates is trying to paint the red stripes orange. On the bottom, one must have a pair of checkered pants. Purina is changing the checkerboard square to orange and white. Now the school will have an abundant supply of shorts. What would Webster ever do without this company? Under the shorts, sweat-

Waterloo Country Club — The tide has finally turned for George Brucker, the beloved Mathematical Analysis teacher at Webster Groves High School. After ten years of hard work, Mr. Brucker has, at last, won the Championship Division of the Waterloo Fall Golf Tournament.

As a reward for his outstanding skill, the Country Club has presented him the trophy pictured below. Next year all high school students may view this token of luck in Room 109. Mr. Brucker will display it there to prove his talent. This trophy stands over six feet high and weighs over a hundred pounds.

The Waterloo Fall Golf Tournament has five divisions: Championship, A, B, C and D. Mr. Brucker had qualified and was runner-up in the Championship Division in 1952-57. From ’58-60 he didn’t compete (he was too tired to play, his students worked him too hard). In 1961 he entered again (this year his classes gave him no trouble, whatsoever) playing against seventy-two participants. After practicing for twenty-eight days straight, Mr. Brucker finally won. Congratulations Mr. Brucker—we’re glad Webster finally won something.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY
(Cont’d.)

There’s also a bachelor in the crowd, Don Beefer. After all he doesn’t believe in going steady.

Here comes a group of gray-haired ladies. Why look, it’s the Terrific Ten Plus. I heard they were still having weekly meetings, but what do they do? After all, they don’t gossip, or so they say.

We also have a few celebrities with us. Mary Beth Barnett and Linda Peacher have gone into show business, each trying to out sing the other. Linden Hanger is quite the thing out East. She always was a cute little chick.

Now it’s time for singing. Come on choir, lead us in a chorus of Webster Alma Mater . . . 1 . . . . 2 . . . . 3 . . . . everyone sing.

UNIFORM
(Cont’d.)

Pants are to be used. Those nobby knees can’t be showing. Each team member shall also have a hat to protect his eyes from the lights and a pair of boxing gloves. They will already be prepared for the rumble after the game.

With this uniform, how can Webster possibly not be successful and go to state.
