Webster High is the one thing we have all had in common. It didn’t take us long to realize that each of us had different attitudes and ideas about how to live. But after being together in classes and activities we’ve learned something else, that some of these ideas have affected our own views, and that we’ve gained in a special way from being here together.

Without our high school none of us would have met the people we have met, had the experiences we have had, and lived the lives we have lived. We come and go as individuals, with one important difference, through Webster...

Saturday, October 13 was the date of the annual A.F.S. Spaghetti Supper. The evening's entertainment was provided by Anne Pohlmann and Sue Ferrenbach on guitars and by Myrage. The benefits of this years successful dinner will help the American Field Service Club send students abroad.
This year's SAA talent show was held on Friday, the tenth of December. The production had fifteen acts, showing some of our finest local talent. The age group ranged from eight to eighteen. Alvin Coleman, with the assistance of Karen Ellis, Pat Grant, and Donna Givens helped put the show together. The advisors were Mr. Daly and Mr. Stallings.
This year’s powder puff game was played on a chilly November 28th at Moss field. The seniors came out on the short end, losing by a score of 2-0. It was the first time since 1970 that the juniors had won. Both senior and junior coaching staffs worked. The seniors were coached by Paul Farrar, Robert Plourde, Billy White, and Ed Bielik. The junior coaches were Jim Lewis, Tim Gaines, and John McCord.

This year's Turkey Day activities began with sophomore S.S.C. showing "Tales from the Crypt". On Monday morning students came to school finding the halls decorated colorfully. The Pep Club and S.S.C. held the annual Pep Assembly the morning before the game. That night the Pep Rally opened early with a bonfire soon after. One can truly say that Webster's spirit this year was exceptional!

The plot involves two sweet old ladies who have the habit of inviting elderly gentlemen into their home. Their nephew, Mortimer, is shocked to find out that his aunts are adding arsenic to the men's elderberry wine. From beginning to end the play was very well done and very entertaining. Ron Kenny directed the play and Norm Hoffmeister designed the scenery.

The musical was written by Victor Herbert in 1906. It was an exceptionally difficult production due to the chorus, stage scenery, and the type of comedy involved. James Kessinger directed the musical portions and Ron Kenny was the stage director. The choreography was arranged by Molly Richardson and Sue Krobot. S.S.C. In Mans School Activities

Mighty, Mighty Kim Landry!

Dabbling Dee Keane.
This year's Student Service Council pulled through with a variety of activities. Among these were the "Winter Waltz" and the Turkey day celebrations in which they sponsored T-day buttons, the bon fire, pep rally, mum sales, and did a superb job with decorating the school. They also sponsored the movie "Tales from the Crypt" on November 20.

S.S.C. sponsor Ms. Pat Voss, student president Julie Belew, and all of S.S.C. completed a very rewarding year.

The S.L.B. was also very successful this year. A few of the problems they worked on were smoking in the rest rooms and emergency procedures in fires and storms. Much of their success was in the organization's make up of 23 members representing all interests that provided for a dynamic group.

S.A.A. Moves On

The Students for Awareness in Action formerly known as Students for Black Awareness in Action changed its name this year; however, the goals were not changed. The faculty advisors were Mr. Daly and Mr. Stallings. The S.A.A.'s main activity this year was their annual talent show, "Expressions from the Soul Within." The show netted the club $600.00. The money was used for their scholarship fund. Besides many other activities the club sponsored a soul food dinner during the Spring Festival.

This year's A.F.S. was designed to help students exchange ideas and information on different cultures and activities. The activities included the viewing of slides from New Zealand and a talk from Jenny Wright about her home land. The annual Spaghetti Dinner was a big part of the fall activity. A birthday party was given for the exchange student, and in February a Potluck Dinner and the sale of Valentine's Day Corsages helped raise money for the club. During the spring, they also participated in activities at the Spring Festival. Ms. Lindberg was the A.F.S. sponsor this year.

The group along with the Sophomore Pep Club, looked to future re-organization which would open the club activities to girls as well as boys. The Sophomore Pep Club, sponsored by Mrs. Gettle combined efforts with the B-team cheerleaders and decorated the third floor for T-Day.
This year was the first year the Echo Yearbook joined in with other organizations in the selling of candy. A sincere effort was put forth by the staff to bring the yearbook out of debt. The staff was basically inexperienced and suffered some difficulty at the beginning of the year, but under the guidance of advisor Mr. Arthur, editor Ted Lueders, and assistant editors Carol Barnard and Joe Bishop, deadlines were met and a quality yearbook produced.

A first for Webster was the newly formed Horseback Riding Club, sponsored by Mrs. Jungers. The equestrians not only went horseback riding, but also learned the basics of caring for a horse.

The 1976-77 cheerleading squads generated much enthusiasm and spirit throughout the year. The sixteen girls on the varsity squad required a lot of energy to keep up with their busy schedule of cheering. The girls had to cheer for every football, cross country, and water polo game, not to mention all winter and spring sports. Cheerleading is to promote spirit; but finances, hard work, and uninterested spectators made the job even harder. It took a tremendous amount of dedication and determination from all the cheerleaders to keep school spirit and enthusiasm up this year.

Board of Education Secretaries
Students and Friends:
This was a landmark year for Webster Groves High School. The school underwent an extensive self-study by staff, students, and community last year and was further evaluated this year by the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools. The outgrowth of this work hopefully will have given our school direction for the next seven years.

Similar to homeroom, the new Advisement Program consisted of smaller groups of all grade levels. Advisement gave all of the students more feeling of belonging as the school year developed.

I feel that as the year progressed, every student was involved in activities which brought them worthwhile feelings of accomplishment and pleasant memories.

Sincerely,
Jerry R. Knight

1977 was a year of returning to basics; ECHO was no exception. We looked at Webster and wondered what it is that makes us the way we are. We discovered that our personalities would not be as they are without meeting each other through the Webster School District. No matter how different we may be, we have one thing in common. Each one of us has walked the halls and lived a portion of our lives at Webster High. We tried to show this in our yearbook, we tried to show that at Webster...

WE HAVE WALKED TOGETHER
