Turkey Day Game 1993

In a heart breaking defeat, the Webster Statesmen lost 24-12 to the Kirkwood Pioneers in the annual Turkey Day contest. In an amazing performance, the Statesman lineman John Kuhn led his team to a victorious first half. But the Pioneers rallied during the second half to give their coach, Dale Collier, an emotional last game. In the long standing tradition the Kirkwood players carried away the bell, a symbol of their conquest over their long-standing rivals.

THE PURPOSE OF S.A.A.

In the late 1960's Black Students at Webster Groves high school developed a new awareness about the plight and status of the Black-American. What emerged was a new club called Students for Black Awareness and Action; to identify and address the needs of the Black students in this high school.

This club focused on relevant issues of that time, such as: the importance of learning Black History, the need for establishing a school scholarship fund to assist the black students attending college, the need for Black Students to be able to unite as a group and to intelligently discuss ways of coping with the discrimination in our society.

As a result of the commitment of the members and the sponsors of this organization in its early stages, significant gains were made for Black Students at this school. Through the years, the emphasis of this special club changed a bit as progress was made. In the mid-seventies, the club was renamed Students for Awareness and Action (SAA).

Today, SAA's purpose is basically the same as the original group. It continues to stress political awareness and academic excellence (as encouraged by awarding scholarships and offering tutorial assistance).
